*Memories of days gone by; those special times
We spent together . . .
Learning, growing, maturing*

. . . and another school year has passed.

*Dreams were shared and exchanged;
We dreamed of greater times, of peace and love.
We dreamed of future times.*

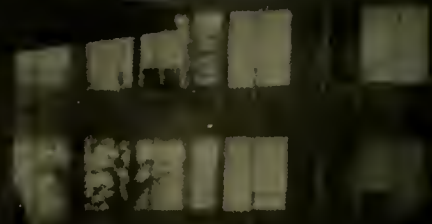

. . . and another school year has passed.

*We learned to share our unique personalities,
Solitary hopes and dreams.
Learning, growing, maturing
. . . Getting Together!*

MILESTONE 1972

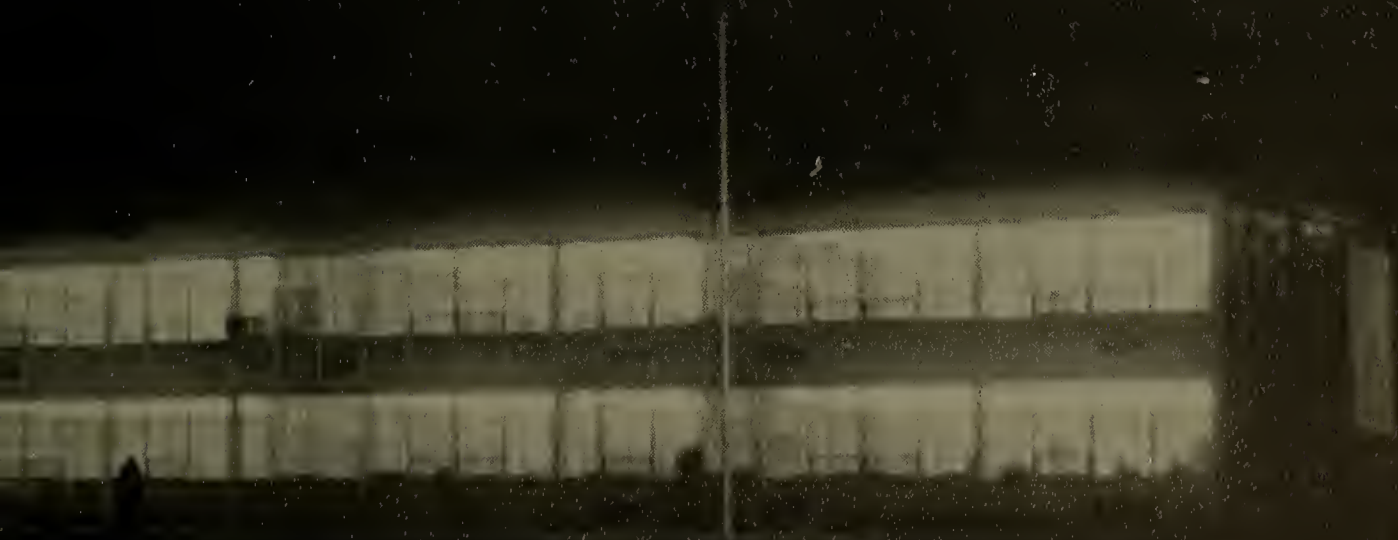

SOUTHBRIDGE HIGH SCHOOL

SOUTHBRIDGE, MASSACHUSETTS

*"I had always felt that . . . school came Into existence the day
I entered it, was vibrantly real
While I was a student there,
And then blinked out like a candle
The day I left."*

We set apart a section of our crowded
Lives to listen to each other,
To laugh and sing . . .
To be together. But occasionally,
We broke apart from the main in order
To search for the meaning
Of our lives. We thought deep thoughts:
The world is mine to conquer;
Am I worthy?

*But the answers seemed to lie,
Not in ourselves,
But in each other. And we Reached out and gained courage
From one another.*

"There's no time to delay,
We've got to live for today;
I've got so much to give,
There is so much to say."

Current events, world affairs brush
The edges of our sheltered existence. We Begin to realize the necessity of caring;
"If you're livin', you belong."

September to June . . . another school year unfolds,
 Bringing with it change
 And innovations which all too quickly become routine.
 Welcomed by all are the plays,
 Athletics and special events which punctuate
 The sometimes monotonous, day-to-day existence.

Extra-curricular activities serve as landmarks
As the weeks merge into one another,
Through involvement, we learn to share our Own special talents.
"Getting together never felt like this before."

We came together in a classroom
And learned to understand
One another in an academic situation.

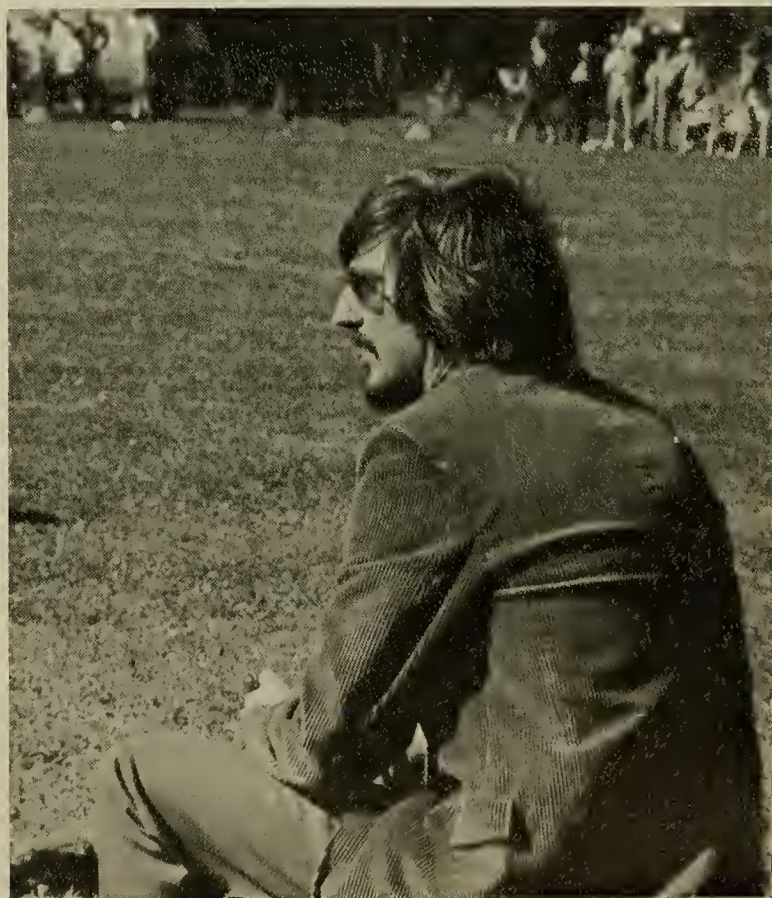

But more importantly,
After school hours, through clubs,
Meetings, sporting events and hard work
On a prom, we gained security
In knowing that we all comprised that Special "Spirit of '72."

Autumn Saturdays . . . We came Together at the football field
To play, to cheer, to twirl . . .
Under a sweltering
Indian Summer sun, or the bitter cold
Of late Autumn,
We experienced the agony of defeat
And the thrill of a hard-fought victory.

Or one that is coming to birth.*

Football

"A winning season was just a hope."

This year's squad compiled an impressive record of six wins and three losses to prove that those hopes were justified.

Playing against bigger and more experienced opponents, the boys rallied behind Tri-Captains Ken Madore, Bill Power and Bill Learned to pull out some close ones.

Their undying spirit and determination proved what high school football is all about.

Turkey
Day?
Game

Postponed twice because of snow and wet grounds, the annual Thanksgiving Day game was dubbed the "Christmas Classic" by impatient players and fans. But on December 5, the game proved worth waiting for as the Pioneers blanked the Bartlett Indians 8-0. Senior Ken Madore scored in the first period and Bill Learned caught the conversion pass. Jim Power made at least 25 individual tackles and was awarded the Vincent Sabatinelli Memorial MVP trophy. Other seniors playing their last game at SHS were: Mike Costa, Dennis Wright, Dave Lane, Bob Peloquin and Mike Dargie.

FIRST ROW: F. Nunes, R. Guerin, J. Barnes, K. Christo, P. Halkidis, R. Weinert, S. Varin, S. Butler, J. Kowalski; SECOND ROW: D. Albani, G. Tucci, S. Kadziewicz, J. Chasse, B. Galli, D. Ashe, E. Soccer

Soccer made its debut at SHS this year and interest in the sport was apparent from the large number who tried out for the team. Though the boys experienced defeat, they made a good showing for their first year in competition. Many members will return for next year's squad and with their continued effort and determination, the future could be bright for soccer at SHS.

CROSS COUNTRY

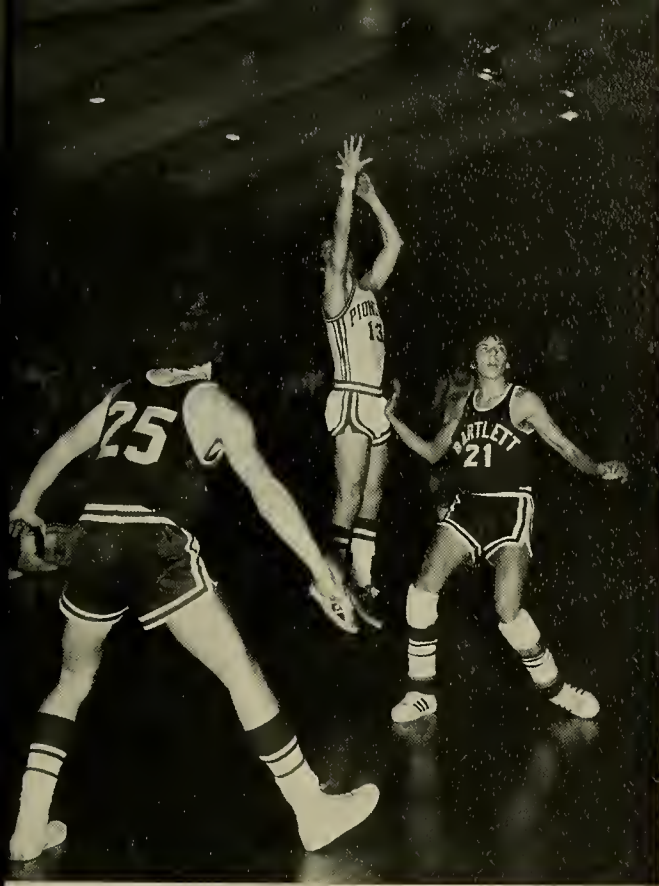

It was a year of firsts for the cross-country team . . . first win over Tantasqua . . . best showing ever in the K of C road race . . . great finish for their first competition at Wachusett Invitational meet. Sophomore Bill Gajewski proved to be one of the best around, along with frosh runner Paul LaCoste. Senior co-captains Jeff Boyle and Lee Negip led the squad coached by Mr. N. Richard Leduc.

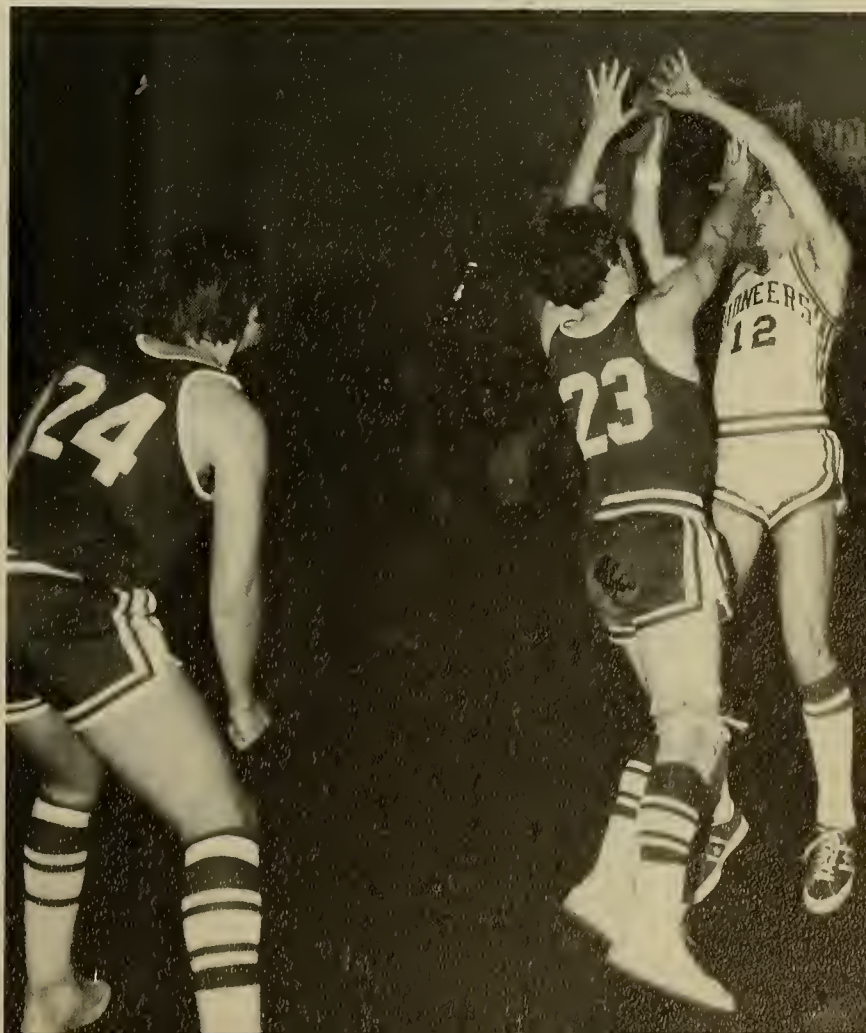

FIRST ROW: J. Boyle, W. Learned, L. Negip, J. Power, T. Nikolla, M. Costa; SECOND ROW: Coach Walter Gosk, M. Chasse, M. Regan, R. Christman, V. Hoffman, N. Peterson, D. Wright.

Varsity Basketball

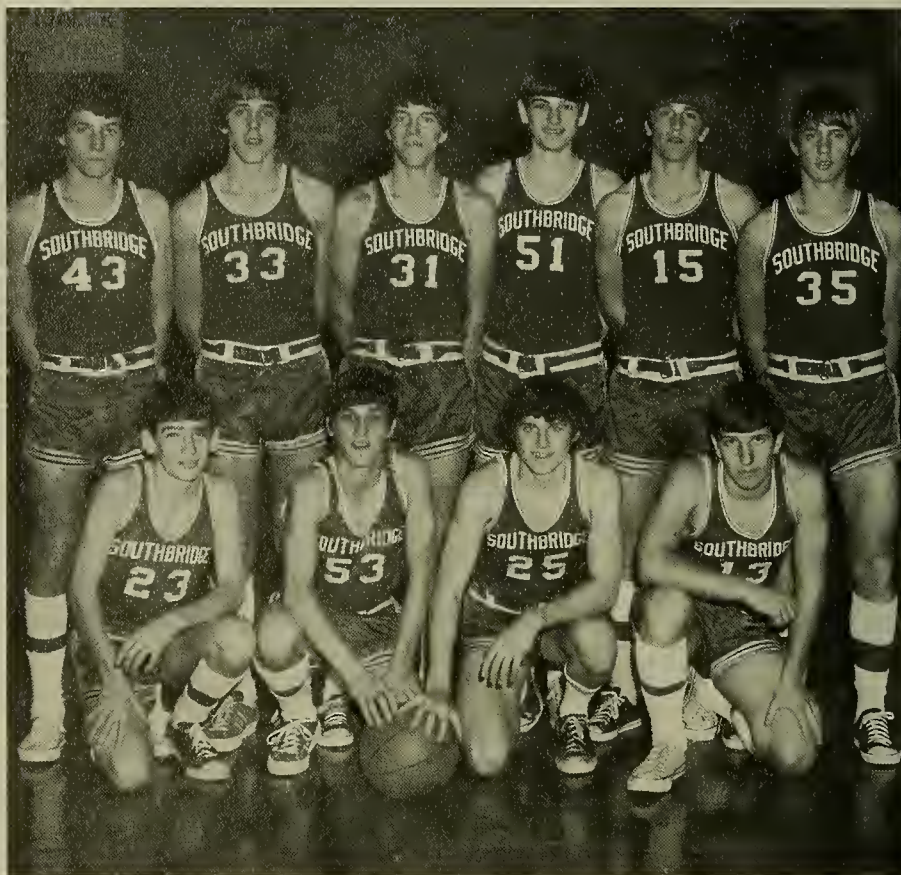

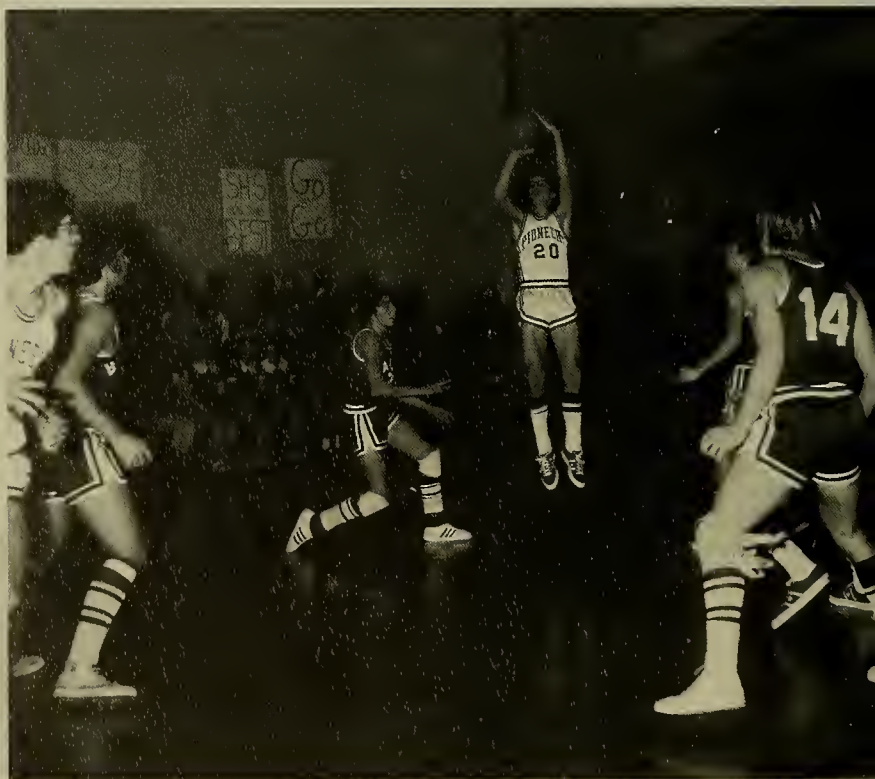

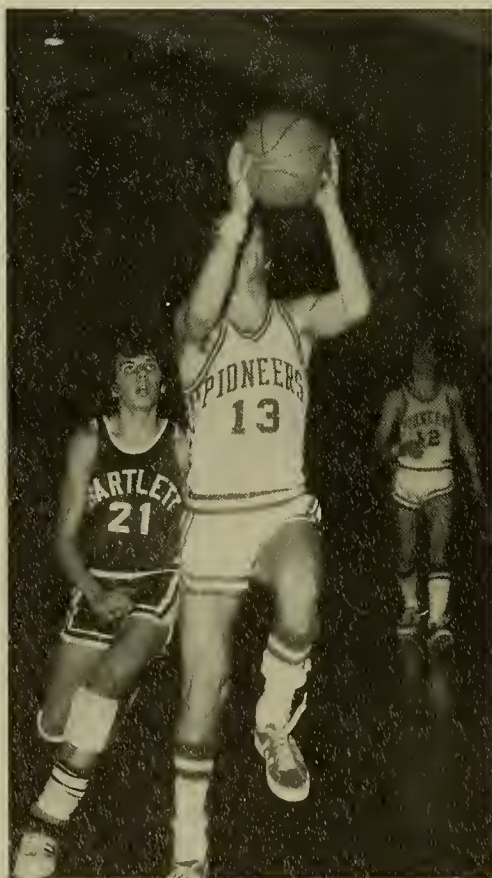

The Border Conference title was within our reach for the first time in the history of SHS. Coached by Mr. Walter Gosk and led by Captain Jim Power, the team utilized a fast, running offense and deadly press. Combining the play-making of Lee Negip, the rebounding of Vin Hoffman and Dennis Wright, the team compiled an impressive win record. The boys also represented SHS in Europe in the spring, touring England and the continent for two weeks, playing several exhibition games.

Girls' Basketball

A balanced offense and a hard-working defense characterized the girls' team this year. Co-captains Janet O'Brien and Barbara Johnson combined outside shooting and rebounding to lead the team to many victories. Senior members Elaine Apostola and Annette Gauthier contributed heavily on defense. The team boasted nine first-string players, all of whom saw a lot of action during the season. Miss Eleanor Tremblay coached the varsity squad and Miss Linda Arslanian coached the jayvee team.

The Prom

The octopus fell into the bandstand and the wall crashed during the night, but the whale didn't bite anyone and the Class of '72 put it all together for the Underwater Fantasy, one of the best proms ever at SHS. Undersea Fantasy

A dream world of color and light. From the whimsical octopus to the mysterious sunken galleon, the transformation was complete.

"1984"

War is peace. Freedom is slavery.

If Big Brother were watching, even he would have been impressed by the All-School presentation of "1984" in May. Mark Chasse and Clare Morrill were most convincing as Winston and Julia. Elaine Apostola was a very real Parsons and Debbie Lacasse did an excellent job as the elderly landlady, as did Jim Santo as Syme. The play was directed by Mr. Dennis McManis.

THE CAST AND CREW: FIRST ROW: B. Lorange, W. Hughes, J. Couture, A. Billis, D. Lacasse; SECOND ROW: D. Perry, J. Fournier, M. Chasse, C. Morrill, E. Apostola, J. Santo, H. MacKinnon, B. Asselin; THIRD ROW: S. Kadziewicz, J. Waskiewicz, C. Beattie, D. Elkins, D. Lane and A. Arpin.

"The Miracle Worker"

To become the character is the ultimate challenge for an actor. Teri Righi and Bonnie Asselin went beyond that challenge as Helen Keller and her teacher, Annie Sullivan in the Senior Class production of "The Miracle Worker." The audience, totally involved in the production, was spellbound by the realism of the performance. The seasoned cast under the direction of Mr. Dennis McManis, combined to render the most emotional and unforgettable performance ever given at Southbridge High School.

The Cast

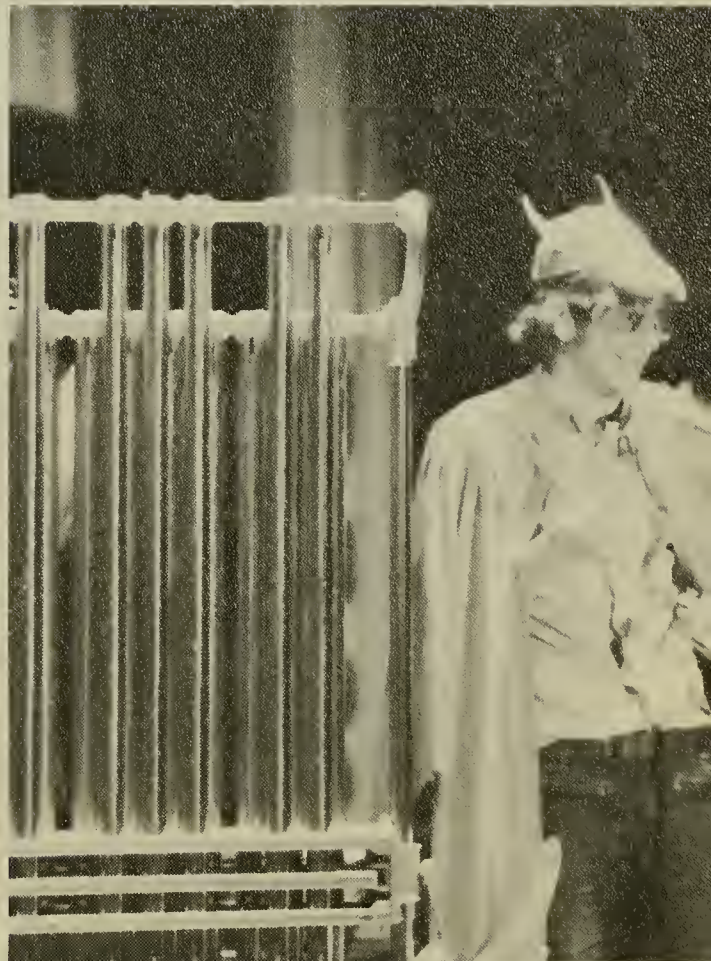

SITTING: K. Christo; D. Borey; W. Hughes; S. Howard; K. Nasse; B. Johnson; N. Zarzycki; D. Lacasse.
STANDING: H. MacKinnon, J. Couture, student director, D. Corbitt, R. Talisman, E. Apostola, Mr. McManis, J. Normandin, M. Chasse, D. Lane, C. Morrill, T. Righi, B. Asselin.

"George Washington Slept Here"

The Southbridge Education Association presented a rousing comedy in June to raise money for the scholarship fund. Starring Miss Beverly Poliks and Mr. Gary Feurer, the play dealt with the couple's problems with property rights and the mysterious disappearance of the deed. Other cast members were: Mr. David Yacavace, M. Thomas Kruczek, Mr. Patrick Loconto, Mr. James Forkey, Mrs. Eleanor Lemond, Miss Janet Turner and Mr. Dennis McManis, director.

Talent Show

Greg Polanik led the rollicking rendition of the 1812 Overture on the chimes, glockenspiel and kazoo; the Donais sisters sang and played their own work and everyone joined in for the finale, singing "Happiness is . . ."

Concerts

The concerts were better than ever this year and a packed house became a tradition at the semi-annual event. People have come to anticipate the productions as sure and welcome signs of Christmas and spring. Under the direction of Mr. Thomas Kruczek, the jazz band came to maturity this year, presenting a really great program at each performance. The singing groups, directed by Mr. Gary Feuerer, also added some new and sophisticated pieces to their varied repertoire.

Pancake Breakfast (Brunch)

The breakfast became a brunch after snow fell on the Thanksgiving festivities this year. The seniors froze the donuts and prayed for the sausage and the event was moved to December 5, when the football game was finally played. Besides the food, the floral corsages being sold by the seniors had to be sent back twice. They were a busy class that day, but they pulled through with high spirits and good humor.

Nursery School

Home Economics students gained experience in caring for pre-school youngsters in a three-day program in the spring. The students had as much fun as their charges, many of whom were children of faculty members.

International Buffet

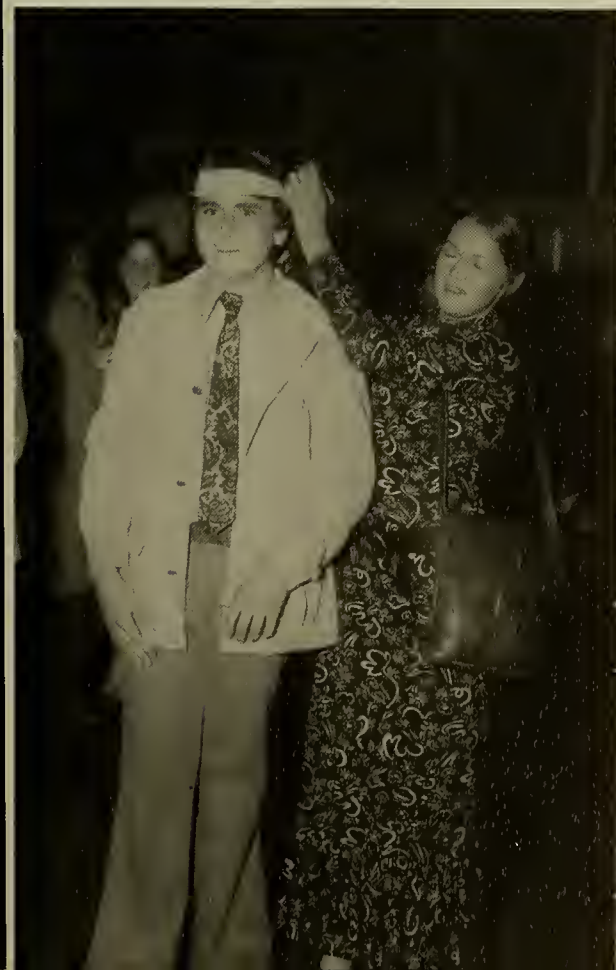

It was a big change from stuffed hot dogs and grilled cheese sandwiches — an international buffet took place in March in the cafeteria during lunch periods. Under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Normandin, the cafeteria staff and senior home economics students served some delicious delights.

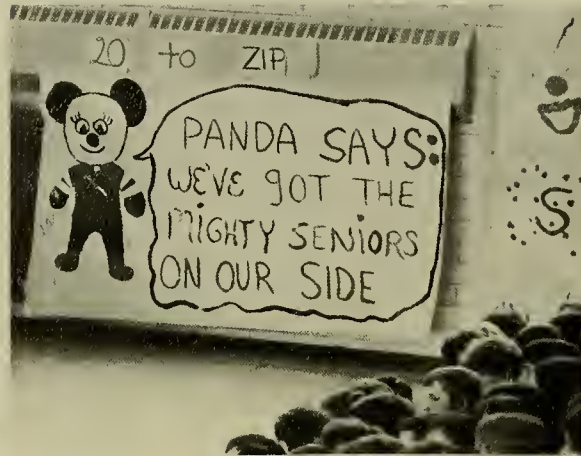

Freshman Reception

Suddenly, the seniors looked grown up. "Were we that small when we were freshmen?" After waiting four years for the honor, they introduced the largest freshman class in the history of the school to the faculty.

Rallies

There was no question whether SHS had spirit this year. The rallies, planned by the cheerleaders and their adviser, Miss Lillian Miskavich, were louder, better and more enthusiastic than ever. The uncontrolled enthusiasm of the class competition at the Thanksgiving rally is proof of that. The freshmen won the class yell and the seniors took first place in the decorating competition. Spirit even carried the football players into the class yell for the seniors. This year also saw the first basketball rally, complete with an exhibition by the team.

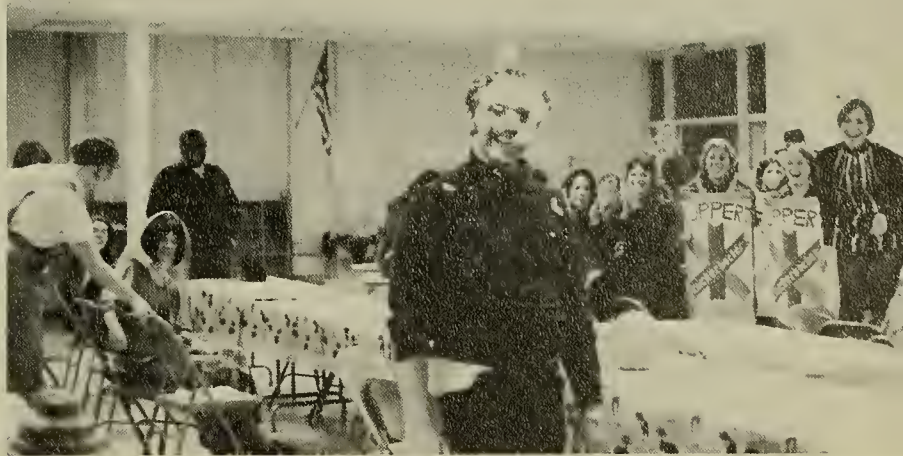

Halloween Party

A mouse in a cheese, a jovial pumpkin, twittering insects, a female vampire, a six-pack and other mystifying personages visited the cafeteria for the first Halloween party sponsored by the Student Council. The pot luck buffet was as interesting as the characters in costume. The party, one of the most successful and fun-filled events ever held at the school, featured a Vincent Price horror movie and cartoons. Mr. Loconto paid dearly for his terrible costume and Debbie Santelli chose the crucial moment in the film to knock a plate on the floor, creating her own very effective sound effects.

Winter Carnival

*Involvement . . . participation . . . class competition . . . good spirits
. . . getting together . . . Winter Carnival '72. WC '72 started something at SHS. The spirit of the carnival caught everyone. A broad range of activities appealed to many interests and talents. The carnival encouraged everyone to work together in class competition, but allowed for individual expression too. The Student Council and Mr. Larson started a great tradition.*

Sports for everyone . . . exchange concerts . . . coed volleyball and basketball . . . Mr. Marino and Miss Arslanian, referees . . . tricycle races . . . powder puff hockey . . . ping-pong . . . coffee house . . . forty million screaming little kids in the Walt Disney movie . . . speed skating . . . Gary Gryniewicz' great victory . . . popcorn . . . beautifying the cafeteria with murals . . . hamburgers and hot dogs and marshmallows . . . brooms . . . tons of snow coming a week late . . . Mr. Larson.

Closing activities were postponed by the blizzard that dropped two feet of snow sculpture material on Southbridge. But carnival week was extended, so Walt Disney's characters reigned over what will probably be the longest winter carnival at SHS.

*To be free, young and alive,
Aware of each heartbeat's pulsating presence,
Appreciating the simple beauty around us,
While being impatient with its imperfections.*

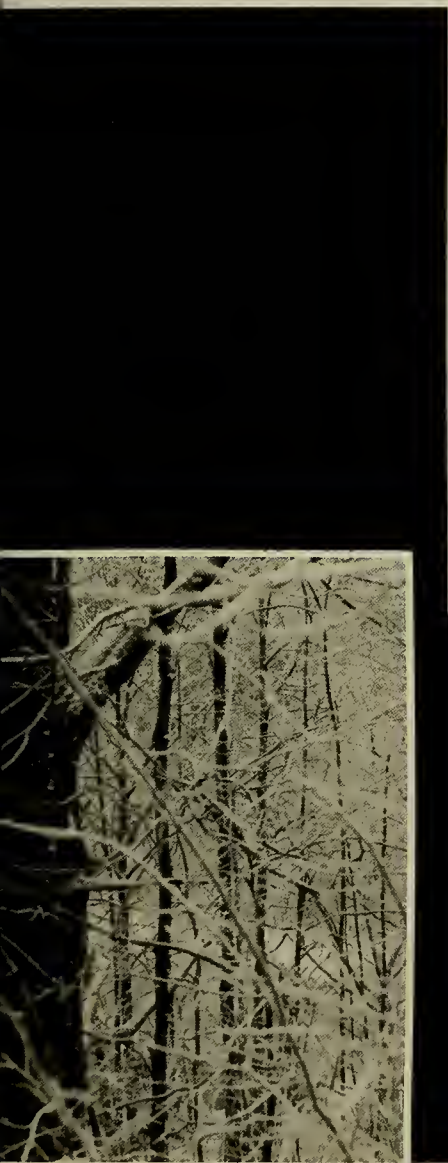

*Another's smile of recognition encouraging us
To get together and know one another,
Learning from insight and experience,
Yet realizing our vulnerability to their shortcomings.*

*The hope in our success,
Strength found when testing the limit of our abilities,
A never-ending drive to reach our utmost potential.
Remember these youthful ways,
For the future is left to be achieved.*

*Nature gives to every time and season
Some beauties of its own.*

The 1972 Milestone staff wishes to thank Mr. Donald Lendry, American Yearbook representative, Mr. Robert Morin, our photographer, and Miss MaryAnne Magiera for their valuable assistance.

Artistic crams, the Irish Rovers and Janis Joplin, theme discussions, inconsistent layouts, and various other frustrations have dominated the many long hours of yearbook meetings over the past school year.

The outcome is this attempt at capturing the mood of Southbridge High. Hopefully, as the reader, the feelings you have experienced during the countless football games, rallies, after school get-togethers, classes, plays or at more solitary moments have been renewed. More importantly, I'd wish, if nothing else, that this yearbook will influence you in appreciating what others have done for you, teachers and students, during your high school career. A sense of gratitude when reminded of the role they have played in forming your ideas and in shaping your future.
